The Office of Alumni Relations organized a series of free webinars/online sessions, handled by the alumni of our institution, who are outstanding in Technology, Engineering, Management and Entrepreneurship. The aim of this series is to provide an opportunity for the current students to chat with their alumni, gain knowledge and learn from their experience. These sessions provide an opportunity to explore majors or career options from the professionals and industrialists all across the globe. It also helps the students to develop an understanding of the corporate world and how to cope up with the new world. Generally, students want to see the potential for true success and growth, both personally and professionally. Alumni can address prospective student concerns about all the stages of their university experience, including what happens afterward, in a tone and language that they understand.
